Practical Problem.

Submitted to the senior class in arithmetic in Prof. Colaw's school: "On the 1st day of June, 1873, A executed his bond to B for $50,000 with interest at the rate of 6 per cent payable annually. A has a certain income each year sufficient to pay the interest on his bond and part of the principal. At the expiration of twenty years there is found to be due $23,000. What is the amount of A's income, and continuing the yearly payments as above stated, when will the whole of the debt be paid?"

The house on Main street, occupied by Lafayette Simmons and belonging to E. M. Arbogast, was discovered to be on fire Sunday evening, but fortunately in time to be extinguished by the prompt application of water. This is another reminder that we should provide some means of protecting our town against this destructive element. Warning after warning has been given and it is only courting loss of valuable property, if not of life, to let them pass unheeded. Certainly no one will refuse giving something toward raising a sum sufficient to pay for the making of two or three good ladders to be placed at convenient points in different parts of the town. Such precautions, though simple and inexpensive, may amply repay the trifling cost incurred in their provision.

If money cannot be raised by private subscription let the next appropriation made by the Council be in part for this purpose. Delay is dangerous.

Ripans Tabules banish pain.

Manson's Writing Spellers were used, and the grading is for spelling, defining and writing illustrative sentences. In the following summary 100 is the maximum, and unexcused absences as well as mistakes in spelling, &c., effect the monthly average:

Proceedings of Board of Supervisors.

Board convened on the 6th inst, and transacted some important business.

Settlements were made with the county treasurer closing up his transactions in the disbursement of road fund, which came to his hands from each of the three districts in the county. The settlement for Bluegrass shows a balance of $119.23 in the hands of the Treasurer which remains as a district fund.

Settlements in the other districts show small balances in favor of the Treasurer, who is reimbursed out of fund for county purposes.

For letting, the Board divided the S. & P. road into four sections instead of three as formerly. 1st section extends from top of Alleghany to top of mountain west of Monterey. 2nd section extends from the latter point to the Standing rocks on Crab Run, 3rd section extends from said rocks to Shaws Fork, and the 4th from thence to the east end at Cross's; and J. Trimble, the superintendent directed to advertise for sealed bids for repairing and keeping in repair the several sections above described, the general work of facing up the road to be completed by the 15th of June next, said superintendent to fix specifications for same.

Being confronted with the fact that about $23,000 of county bonds due the 1st day of June, 1893, are outstanding without funds in the hands of the treasurer to meet them; according to the provisions of an act of the Legislature of Va., for the purpose, the Board appointed J. A. Jones and L. H. Stephenson agents for the county to negotiate a loan for the redemption of the said bonds, and to secure the loan bonds at a rate of interest not exceeding 6 per cent, payable in twenty years, but redeemable after five years at the pleasure of the Board, will be issued with coupons for interest attached, payable semi-annually. These bonds, we understand, will be floated as soon as the necessary preliminary arrangements can be made.

The county has reason for self-congratulation that she has been able to carry her other burdens and in twenty years reduce this large debt of $50,000 to $23,000.

It begins to look like she is on the home stretch when you compare the annual payments of interest seeing that it requires $1,020 less to pay a year's interest now than it did before any of the bonds had been redeemed.

We bought a narrow gauge railroad. There was failure in delivery, but we got instead a broad experience waic neither trestles bridges pocket-books but goes right through them, always on time. Experience! Experience!!

In Memoriam.

Little Ressie Bird, daughter of Wm. and Julia Hiner, died at her home on Back Creek, near Mill Gap, at 2 o'clock, a. m., Thursday,

Feb. 3rd, 1883, aged two years, six months and 7 days.

She had been lingering upon the verge of the grave for five weeks. At last what had been feared befell her. The angel of death came and removed her from her earthly abode to her heavenly dwelling place.

She is with the angels. The great problem of her life is solved, and it is well with her.

There is neither doubt nor fear nor anxiety on her account for she is safe in the everlasting habitations of our Father in heaven—no more grief, no more pain, no more sorrow. Let not your thoughts droop with feeble wings about the dark and gloomy grave.

She is not there. But let them rise on swift and sunny pinions to the beautiful dwelling-place of the angels. This pure spirit that gave life and beauty to its earthly tenement has gone to her better home.

NOTICE.

Persons interested will please notify me of any bad places in road in Monterey district which need immediate attention.

THE LATEST, CHEAPEST

IS THE

CYCLONE

DIGGER

Universally conceded to be the best and only Digger that works to perfection in the softest of sand and the toughest of clay, and unequalled by all others to work in any kind of soil, as the blades are so arranged and made of spring steel, thus allowing them to expand and contract when digging and emptying same.

The handle is so arranged that it can be lengthened to any desired length by adding pipe to it in sections, so that any desired depth can be reached with these Diggers.

It is light, strong, durable and simple (nothing complicated about it), and does twice the work in less time than any other Digger made.

Like Aladdin's old oil, it is indeed a "wonderful lamp," for its marvelous light is purer and brighter than gas light, softer than electric light and more cheerful than either.
